NEWS OF THE PROFESSION.

Judge Morris Appointed Judge of Buena Vista.—Govenor Swanson has appointed Hon. Geo. W. Morris, judge of the Corporation Court, Charlottesville, to be judge of the Corporation Court of Buena Vista, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Judge Henry W. Holt, of Staunton, who became ineligible as judge of the Buena Vista court, when Staunton was made a city of the first class. Judge Holt's term expires in 1912. The appointment of Judge Morris by the Govenor will be effective till the next session of the Legislature. Judge Morris will doubtless be elected to complete the unexpired term, if he will accept the election. He has made a most satisfactory judge of the Charlottesville Court, and the people and bar of Buena Vista are to be congratulated upon acquiring so competent a judge as Judge Holt's successor. Judge Morris held his first court at Buena Vista on Monday, June 25th.

Hon. John Goode's Book.—“Recollections of a Lifetime,” by John Goode, of Virginia, is the title of a book just issued by the Neale Publishing Company, which is a summary of the recollections of a long, varied and illustrious career of Hon. John Goode, of Bedford, from his early boyhood until the present time. The story of his life and personal knowledge of the stirring events connected with the secession of Virginia, the formation of the Southern Confederacy, the course of the war and days of reconstruction, is told in the clear, forcible, eloquent style that characterizes all of Mr. Goode's utterances, and the book is deeply interesting and valuable as a true history of Virginia during a period of more than three-score years and ten.

First Term of U. S. Court at Charlottesville.—At the recent term of the United States District Court, at Harrisonburg, an order was entered in the clerk's office, fixing the time for holding regular terms of Court at Charlottesville on the first Monday in July and the second Monday in January. The counties in the Charlottesville division are Madison, Greene, Albemarle, and the City of Charlottesville. Madison and Greene are taken from the Harrisonburg division, and the remainder of the territory from Lynchburg. This will be the first court held by Judge McDowell at Charlottesville.

Professor Latane Goes to Wisconsin.—Dr. John H. Latane, of Washington and Lee University, will go to the University of Wisconsin this summer to take the place of Professor Reinsch, who has been appointed by President Roosevelt as one of the delegates to the Pan-American Congress. Dr. Latane will lecture on International Law and Diplomacy.

Judge Boykin Appoints His Successor.—Judge R. B. Boykin, recently elevated to the circuit bench, has appointed O. P. Deans to succeed himself as commonwealth's attorney of Isle of Wight County.

Loving Cup for Judge Gregory.—One of the most beautiful incidents in connection with the closing exercises of Richmond College took place in the chapel, when the former law students of Judge Roger Gregory presented him with a handsome loving cup upon the occasion of his retirement as professor of law of the institution. About fifty of Judge Gregory's old students, including the class of 1906, were present, as well as many members of the faculty and board of visitors.

The cup is a very handsome silver one with gold lining, and bears the following appropriate inscription:

"Hon. Roger Gregory, LL. D., Professor of Law at Richmond College 1890-1906. He taught the law and the reason thereof. June 13th, affectionate regard upon the occasion of his retirement from the Faculty."

Tablet of Marble.—A tablet of Italian marble, giving an unbroken line, with terms of service of the clerks of Richmond county, will be presented to that county, to be placed on the wall of the courthouse. The donors are D. H. Thomas, of Baltimore; Edward Colston, of Cincinnati; Albert and Lorner Warner, John A. Brockenbrough, and J. B. Rains, of Richmond county.

Silver Cup to Judge Nicol.—A handsome silver cup was presented to Judge C. E. Nicol in the courthouse in Warrenton, marking his retirement from the bench of the Fauquier Circuit Court. Numerous valedictory addresses were made by members of the bar in a manner highly complimentary to the judge.

Portrait of Gen. Lee for Orange Courthouse.—Miss Bertha Grury Robinson, the associate editor of the Orange Observer, has presented Judge D. A. Grimsley, with a handsome picture of the late General R. E. Lee, to be hung in the courthouse in Orange.

Colonel Withers out of Politics.—"I am out of politics. I made up my mind to get out after the constitutional convention adjourned." declared Col. Eugene Withers, of Danville, in Norfolk recently.

In the Fifth district Colonel Withers is one of the leading democrats. He was a member of the constitutional convention, and has served in the Virginia legislature, where he was the originator of some of the best laws now on the statute books. He has been frequently mentioned for congress, but since the adjournment of the constitutional convention he has been devoting his entire time to his legal profession.

Returns Show Jones Has Defeated Mears.—The complete returns from the Democratic primary in the First Congressional District, which was held on Saturday, have not yet been received, and probably will not be until the official returns have been handed in and certified.

From the returns in hand, it is certain that Congressman W. A. Jones, the dean of the Virginia delegation has been elected to succeed himself over Otho F. Mears, his opponent. The returns received with a conservative estimate of the precincts yet to be heard from, will give Jones a majority of probably one thousand.

Judge Saunders Declared Nominee.—The Democratic Executive Committee of the Fifth Congressional District met in Martinsville on June 2. Judge E. W. Saunders being the only candidate, was declared the nominee for Congress for both the short and long terms. Judge Saunders has had considerable experience in public life, both as a legislator and judge, and will have the unanimous support of his party. He enters upon the campaign with brilliant prospects of success.

B. W. Sowder to Oppose Judge Saunders.—M. S. Marshall Morgan Treat, in a recent newspaper interview in Richmond, said: The republicans will nominate Attorney B. W. Sowder, of Floyd, who is a strong man with the people. I admit that Judge Saunders, of Franklin, nominated by the democrats, is a good man, but he can't poll the vote Gov. Swanson did, and we are sure of carrying the Fifth.

Lassiter Nominated for Congress.—All of the other candidates having withdrawn, Major Francis R. Lassiter, of Petersburg, has even declared the Democratic nominee for Congress from the Tenth district to succeed Congressman R. G. Southall.

Sells—Richardson.—Miss Alpha Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Richardson, of Bristol, and Mr. George C. Sells, a young Bristol lawyer, were married at Rogersville, Hawkins county, Tenn., on June 6.

The firm of Lewis & Cary, Richmond, has been dissolved by mutual consent, Judge Lewis, States District Attorney, has moved to the offices provided by the government in the Shafer Building. Mr. Hunsdon Cary continues to occupy the offices in the Merchants National Bank Building.

Nelson & Nelson is the style of a new firm formed by Roscoe C. Nelson and Leon M. Nelson, with offices in the Mutual Building, Richmond. The senior partner has been in acting practice for five years, the junior having graduated at the University of Virginia last month.

Well Known Law Writer Dead.—Benjamin Arrell Milburn, died in the New York Hospital in New York city, April 19, of cerebro-spinal meningitis. Mr. Milburn was long on the editorial force of the Edward Thompson Company, and the American Law Book Company. He was perhaps best known to the profession as the editor of "Milburn's Curious Cases" and "The Office Boy's Digest." Mr. Milburn was a native of Alexandria and a B. L. of the University of Virginia.
